The Bank of Murray Plans Big Remodeling Program

To keep pace with the increased business and in contemplation of a substantial growth in the city of Murray and Calloway County the directors of the Bank of Murray in a meeting held Tuesday night decided to remodel and modernize their building. They will spend between $15,000 and $20,000 on the program.

Tentative plans have been drawn up, but these probably will undergo some minor changes. The bank owns the room where the Scott-Lassiter Hardware Company has been located, and the new structure will arise on the site of their present building and the former Scott-Lassiter business room. It is hoped to get the program underway at once.

In visualizing the new building, when modernized, a large and spacious lobby with marble floor will greet the patrons upon entering. Five teller cages will be aligned on the north wall, with all the bookkeeping and business offices along that side. The vaults will remain in their present location.

On the south side of the cashier's offices and consultation rooms will be located. Working space in the new building will be more than doubled. The directors' room will be in the rear to the right of the vault.

COURT REELECTS JOHN T. COCHRAN AS COUNTY AGENT

E. P. Phillips Account is Settled; Overbey is Named as Collector

AGENT'S SERVICE HAS BEEN WIDELY KNOWN

The Calloway County Fiscal Court Tuesday reelected J. T. Cochran county agricultural agent by a vote of 5-3.

The vote came after Magistrate J. G. Denham offered the motion that the election of the county agent be deferred, but his motion was lost and Magistrate J. W. Underwood nominated Cochran for the office.

Cochran came to Murray in 1935. Since that time a widespread program of soil management has been developed, and terraces and cover crops are successfully aiding soil fertility. Many farmers in Calloway county, long residents here, declare Cochran to be "the best county agent this area ever had."

At present Cochran is taking the lead in a program designed to obtain rural electrification in this county.

In addition to the election of a county agent, the court Tuesday accepted a consideration of $785 as complete settlement of the court expenses of the late Judge E. P. Phillips.

It named County Attorney Wells Overbey as the attorney to collect certain delinquent funds from the state Highway Department in case such indebtedness on the part of that department did exist. Overbey may take care of the situation himself, or he has the authority to name another attorney to take care of the situation.

Before adjournment, the magistrates allowed their own per diem. All were present, and Judge J. P. Clifton was in charge, calling the session.

Ronald Churchill Is New President Of Murray Rotary

Ronald Churchill, Murray funeral director, Thursday became president of the Murray Rotary club by unanimous vote of members present.

A. V. Havens, Murray Christian minister, was elected vice-president, and Ollie L. Bolen, druggist, was reelected secretary to his fifteenth consecutive term.

New directors elected were John T. Neale, editor; Lavern Walcott, storekeeper; and Dr. V. J. Butterworth, physician. Karl C. Frazee, incumbent president, automatically became a member of the directory board.

John T. Cochran, county agent, addressed the club on the values of "Diversified Agriculture."

Churchill, long a member of Murray Rotary, has manifested his ability for leadership in practically every worthy civic enterprise in Murray.

Joe T. Lovett this week was a delegate to the state convention of Rotary at Ashland, at which Lawrence Hagar, publisher of the Owensboro Messenger, was elected district governor for this area.

It was remembered locally that Judge Sam Hagar was on the local committee to select a site for Murray State College back in 1922. Another uncle of Hagar is a candidate for the governorship of Kentucky in 1938.

Cooking School Patronage Is Especially Gratifying

Audience is Well Pleased; Ledger & Times to Sponsor 1939 School

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUL, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. CARDUL, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Send for a booklet, consult a physician.

JUST JOTS

By John

It's Derby Day Saturday—the one day that brings the good old Commonwealth of Kentucky before the eyes of the world.

Horse racing is the sport of Commoners and Kings.

There will be a lot of "also-rans" about 5:30 p. m. Saturday. There are "also-raps" in every line of business, in every sport and in every human endeavor where there is competition.

And politics produces a lot of "also-rans."

"To the victor belong the spoils."

If spoils are put to the benefit of mankind the spoils system might not be so bad.

Recession will be a thing of the past Saturday. Enmities will be forgotten, all minds will be on the thoroughbreds—till the winner is announced.

Thousands will have changed hands—some smiling—some gloomy—others better luck next time.

If everyone paid their taxes and bills as easy as they place two dollars on the nose, business would boom.

And speaking of taxes—it is only right that every one who holds a political job should pay income taxes too. We agree with Roosevelt on that point.

Because a man works for the government, why should he be exempt from Federal income tax and his neighbor not, who earns his by the sweat of his brow?

Wouldn't it be a better bet to place that two dollars that you might bet on the Derby in the Kentucky Crippled Children's Hospital Fund? You might lose on the horse race, and two dollars in the fund will help some poor child find a new life.

By the way, Calloway county is said to be $434 behind its goal. It is our understanding that only $66 has been subscribed so far. Let's do our bit for the fellow-kiddies. Every dime counts.

Better dust the moth out of last year's swimming suit—if this hot weather continues the ole swimming hole is going to look mighty good. Better still maybe you will want a new one—a '38 streamlined model. Murray merchants have them—for Sam and Sal—and Little Laddie.

You hear women talking about wanting to reduce—but did you ever see skinny women pictured modeling a bathing suit... Maybe it's not so bad to be plump after all.

Phelps to Open Ice Cream Parlor On Main Street

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Phelps purchased this week the location formerly owned by Don Dumas on West Main Street near the National Hotel and will convert it into an ice-cream conservatory, they said today.

The entire shop has been renovated, and Phelps will install equipment for the making of his own ice-cream. He will handle soft drinks and candies.

Phelps formerly was a storekeeper in Bowling Green, Ky., but his wife is a native of this county. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zollie Swor, of Hazel, and taught school in both the eastern and western part of the county several years ago. At time, she was Miss Vera Swor, had a wide number of acquaintances.

B. F. Schroeder Is One of County's Oldest Citizens

One of the oldest business men (if not the oldest) is B. F. Schroeder, the B. F. is for Benjamin Franklin, who at 80 years of age is actively engaged in making shuttle-block materials from dogwood trees which he sells everywhere.

He has a sawmill, or at least a shuttle-block mill, down in the southeast part of town, close to the oil stations and the railroad track, and he's been operating it for the last 19 years, on and off, but mostly on during the last 12. He sells his stuff to England, Canada, and all over.

B. F. is not only the oldest business man, but he's the oldest member of the Methodist church in Murray, the oldest member of the Masonic Lodge, and from the standpoint of the number of years he's been in residence here he's the oldest citizen.

Mr. Schroeder and his wife live alone in the great big old house just across the street and a little to the right from the National Hotel, but they don't get lonely, he said. He's a pretty spry old gentleman, even if he is 80 and past. "I've seen a lot of changes take place in Murray," he said, "and expect to see a whole lot more—especially when they start building this dam in earnest."

A motion picture showing the life stages in the incubation of an egg was shown Friday afternoon in the Murray courtroom before a large audience of farmers and interested poultrymen.

Sponsor of the picture was the Murray Hatchery, managed by R. E. Kelley, and the county agent, County Agent J. T. Cochran, was in charge of the presentation.

Those who viewed the egg-incubation sequence declared it to be one of the most enlightening films they had seen in long.

Kirksey Dads And Sons Enjoy Fish Supper April 28

By Robert Carlton

The nostrils of many true fish lovers quivered with delight as the crisp aroma of frying fish was wafted across the campus Wednesday night, April 27, the night of Kirksey Future Farmers' Father and Son Fish Fry.

The affair was very informal. The fathers were unanimously in favor of no speeches, but plenty of fish, and the FFA boys gave them just what they wanted.

Approximately 100 sons and dads consumed nearly 165 pounds of fish.

The honor guests were: J. T. Cochran, county agent; Kelly Cronwell, assistant county agent; Rev. C. V. Evans, H. A. Lassiter, Dr. J. V. Stark, and Pearl Darnell.

Rutherford Morgan, a future farmer, was toastmaster.

The Future Farmers are grateful to Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Mrs. J. E. Jones, Mrs. Corbin Riley, Mrs. Jim Washer, Mrs. H. G. Gingles, Mrs. A. B. Carlton, Mrs. A. L. Billington, Mrs. M. H. Edmonds, Mrs. J. L. Crass, Mrs. H. A. Lassiter, and Mrs. Clellon Sanders for preparing the feast; and to the 10 home economics girls who served the meal.

Dried Skim Milk To Provide Relief

Three hundred and sixty thousand pounds of dry skim milk have been received by the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration from the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation for distribution to persons on relief rolls. One hundred twenty thousand pounds more are expected in the near future.

This product is dry white powder made from skim milk and contains all milk solids except the butterfat. Because it can be used in its powdered form in preparing recipes calling for milk, or can be mixed with water to obtain the equivalent of fluid skim milk, it forms a valuable addition to the diets of those persons who limited budgets prevent their buying enough milk.

The manufacture of the five million pounds of dry skim milk will require fifty-five million pounds of fluid skim milk representing the product of many dairy farms in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Idaho, California, Washington, Oregon and Pennsylvania.

Vacation School For Bible Study To Be Instituted

A vacation Bible school will be conducted by the First Baptist Church here from June 20 to July 1, according to an announcement made today by Ralph Churchill, secretary of student work in Murray.

The plan to be used in the school, Churchill said, is the same promoted by the Southern Baptist Convention as a division of Sunday school work.

Students of any denomination will be welcomed to the studies, according to the announcement. The classes will be held three hours daily for two weeks by Murray Sunday school workers, Churchill said.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor will preach morning and evening. Subjects: A. M. "BROKEN OR UNBROKEN ALABASTER BOXES"; P. M. "THE WHO, WHY, WHEN AND WHAT OF GOD'S GREAT REVOLUTIONARY TEXT".

Sunday School every Sunday at 9:30, sharp. The school, under the direction of Dr. Hugh M. McClair and the able consecrated officers and teachers, is doing a very far-reaching work. There are classes for all ages meeting each class in a separate room. You will derive great profit from one of these classes to which you are earnestly invited to attend.

The Training Union meets every Sunday at 6:45 until further notice. This is the training camp of the church where a united effort is put forth in preparing all workers for better endeavor both at home and beyond. Beauty In The Sunset

Yonder in the far and distant West
The sun is slowly sinking,
The bright red haze of afterglow
Sets my sad heart to thinking.
There's beauty in the sunset
So much we do not see,
Or else, we do not notice half the beauty.

That's meant for you and me,
Sometimes we get too busy
With the world on our mind,
We fail to look up with thankful hearts.

To the great God who is kind,
O the beautiful, beautiful sunset
Means the ending of day,
Do we lift our hearts in gratitude
To the merciful God and pray
There's a glorious sunset.

That will sometime come,
For the ones that are true
When life's day is done,
The sun is now sinking,
The world has had its sunshine bath.

We must look to God and pray
Lest the sun go down upon our wrath.

W. Hafford Adams and John Adams Will Aid Youthful Head of Grocery Firm

James M. Jones, 23, who for the past year has been in charge of the meat department at Kroger's Store here, Monday was named manager of the local plant, succeeding Ralph Yarbrough, who was recalled to Paducah.

W. Hafford Adams, Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Adams, of West Murray, an employee of the plant, was promoted to the assistant managership, and will aid in the general personnel overseership of the store.

It was largely due to his demonstrated energy, business zeal, and qualities vital to successful industry that the district management of Kroger's Stores appointed him to the responsible position he now holds.

Frank Smith Players Coming to Murray

An advance representative of the Frank Smith Players' big tent theatre was in town Tuesday, making preparations for the coming of the show, which will appear here all next week under the auspices of the American Legion.

Smith is bringing to Murray one of the biggest and highest class shows that he has had for many years, according to advance reports. He presents this season many headline features, and among them is Gene "Honegal" Cobb, who for many years starred with the late J. C. O'Brien minstrels, and who for the past two years has been appearing on a number of major NBC radio stations, including WLW, Cincinnati, KMOX, St. Louis, and WSM, Nashville. He is a great favorite with theatre-goers and radio fans.

Also appearing on the program are the six Sisters of Hollywood, who add to the program many varieties of dancing. Other persons appearing on the program are: Jimmy and Edith Erickson, comedy and musical harmony singers; Johnny Compe, king of the xylophone; Gus Reid, the Maryland song bird; Hazel Williams, comedy songs and dances. A swing orchestra will furnish the musical program. The opening play will be "Husband For Sale," a fast stepping comedy-drama.

Although the show has many added features this year, the same bargain prices will prevail, the manager said, and one lady will be admitted free on the opening night with each paid adult ticket.

With sales of fencing materials soaring, raising of sheep and other stock has had a big increase in Morgan county.

For Mother's Day

By Chatterbox

There isn't a thing I can say, Mother dear,
That you do not know as your Sunday draws near.
Still I'd like to remind you I wear my red rose.

I'm more thankful to wear it than anyone knows.
I pity so much everyone who wears white,
It tells me the old home is minus its light.

It says that no mother with silvery hair.

It means that the wearer has been set adrift.

With no mother's smile the dark storm clouds to lift.

And the he is wealthy, as he passes me by,

I know by his rise, he's not wealthy as I.

And so, tho no gift, I am sending - to you.

I hope to your love I will always be true.

And I want to still wear the red rose when I'm old.

It means more than all of the silver and gold.

Hamilton to Play In National Meets

Training School Tennis Star Is Considered Finest Net Prospect of Area

J. D. Hamilton, 16-year old junior of the Murray Training School, will compete in at least two National Junior Tennis Championships this summer, according to announcements released today. Hamilton plans upon entering the meet at either Memphis or Nashville, Tenn. (the place has not been settled upon) and the tournament in Detroit, Mich.

Hamilton, who spent most of his high-school days in Carlsbad, N. M., where he was runner-up in the New Mexico state junior meet, is considered one of the outstanding tennis stars ever to play on Murray courts and according to several tennis authorities has an excellent chance of getting into "big-time" tennis should he continue to improve.

Tentative plans call for a tennis team at the Training School if matches can be scheduled. A three-man team consisting of Hamilton, Wells Lovett, and Herbert Drennon, Jr., has been planned. Meets with Grove High, of Paris, Murray High, Tighman, Mayfield, and Fulton may be arranged.

The Men's Music Club of Murray State College will present May 10 a large musical-revue, entitled "Campus Lights". There will be two performances, a matinee for all-high-school-and-training school students, and a large evening performance for the college students and the general public.

"Campus Lights" is a musical show consisting of new and popular numbers together with comedy skits, dances, choruses, and unique and novel acts. All new scenery and lighting effects will be in order for the show on May 10. In presenting "Campus Lights" the Men's Club is giving a show which is to be the first of its kind ever to be given in Western Kentucky, and it is the first that could easily be termed "a study in swing".

SPRING . . . When All Nature Is A-Bloom

Is the Time To Erect A Fitting Memorial to Your Departed Loved One

Now that winter has ebbed away and all the earth is covered with the blooming buds and blossoms of the Spring-time, when nature has awakened from her long winter sleep, the thoughts of us left behind naturally turn to the blessed memories of our loved ones in the "lone couch of their everlasting sleep."

It is natural and proper for us to wish to commemorate in eternal marble, granite or stone the life and character of those who were blood of our blood and bone of our bone.

If your loved one is still lying in an unmarked grave we would be glad to discuss with you the important matter of erecting a suitable monument of enduring stone.

Every detail will be carefully and thoroughly attended to if you commission us to execute this important task for you, for we stand fully behind this statement: "Our Monuments Are Guaranteed to Satisfy Customers in Material, Workmanship and Price Before You Pay for Them."

The Dam Assured

Action of the House of Representatives Monday in voting the necessary appropriation for immediate construction of the Calloway Dam should be received with delight by citizens in the territory adjacent to its location. The advantages of this largest of all government projects east of the Mississippi are numerous. The dam will insure capital to locate industries in the area on account of being accessible to cheap power. This project will be an instrument in the national plan of flood control.

Farmers in the Calloway area will be paid well for their land as they are moved out to make room for this mammoth construction estimated to cost $112,000,000, and we see a stimulus to real estate in other counties as they go into new communities.

All in all, it is anticipated to awaken this vast dormant empire in the Lower Tennessee Valley to an activity hardly dreamed of and will encourage new enterprise in town and countryside. More than four years ago, when talk of such a project was heard, only a few enterprising leaders in Western Kentucky and Tennessee thought the undertaking worthwhile. W. V. Gregory, our congressman, was among the group that had a vision of successful completion of a dam on the Lower Tennessee River. He received assistance of other members of Congress and due to his untiring efforts, the project was brought into national notice. At his death his brother, Congressman Noble J. Gregory, took up the task of getting an appropriation for the dam. And today the people of this district congratulate Congressman Gregory for the success that has come in getting the lower house of Congress to include Calloway Dam in items of expenditure—Mayfield Messenger.

WHY BUY LIFE INSURANCE

The underlying purpose of life insurance is to provide the policyholder with a means of meeting a responsibility to others.

The thoughtful individual plans his life insurance contract as something far more comprehensive than the support for his old age which it may turn out to be. He recognizes the fact that he may never reach an old age at all, but may die prematurely. He looks to his life insurance as a guarantee of cash or continuing income to his dependents after his death.

Field representatives of the various life insurance companies wish to meet and advise with men and women who desire to plan the right sort of protection for themselves and their dependents.

They urge such individuals to subscribe for life insurance long before the active body gives any hint whatever of death—or even of failing health or decreasing vigor. They appeal to the mind, only—not the body. The body might prophesy undying, perpetual strength. The mind, they know, recognizes this as a fantasy.

They know and explain that life insurance begun in the early years when it seems least urgent, has the advantage of the low rates then obtainable. They point out that, as the trend of earning power turns upward, the premiums on existing insurance remain fixed and may be reduced by dividends. So that by the time the body concedes the great need for life insurance the mind rejoices that it had long since foreseen this need and provided for it on the best of terms.

Yes, say these representatives, it is true that life insurance may turn out to be a good investment to fall back on, and that those who live with it for 20 or 30 or even 40 years are often delighted and surprised when they realize that they have accumulated a substantial fund.

But the purchaser who looks at life insurance in its broadest sense seldom places self first; he considers a life insurance contract as much more than a savings fund. He regards it rather as an arrangement made by him for the benefit of another whom he loves—an act of justice and generosity—a provision to be adhered to despite all adversity and to be enlarged as circumstances change.

Americans may well be proud of the fact that their life insurance funds amounting to more than 100 billion dollars—cover those for whom the insurance was taken out—an amount more than double that covering the people in all the other nations of the world.

The Rewards of Fire Prevention

Winter is over. The good days are here. And millions of people will soon start a pleasant round of motoring trips, picnics, camping excursions and other forms of outdoor recreation.

If you are one of these, you will see nature at her best. But do your part to make sure that she continues at her best—by being careful with fire. There are millions of acres of ravished, blackened stump land in this country that once bore magnificent trees—because someone was careless with a campfire. Some of the finest natural garden spots have been turned into ash wastes—because someone was careless with a cigarette. Animals and humans have perished horribly in holocausts of raging flames—because someone took a chance with fire.

Almost all states have laws against throwing matches or lighted tobacco from cars—obey them rigorously. They are sound laws, designed for your protection, and they deserve your cooperation. An excellent practice is to break a match in two between your fingers before dropping it—then you'll know that it really is out.

Don't go on a camping trip without the basic tools of fire control—a shovel, and a good-sized bucket. If possible, make a rock fireplace for your fire. Under no circumstances build it near brush, dry leaves or other easily inflammable materials. Don't build a large fire—a relatively small one is adequate for all camping needs. And when you are through with it, really put it out—douse it with water, and shovel dirt over the ash. Be certain that not a spark remains.

The prevention of fire in the outdoors is its own reward—it guarantees that there will be a beauty spot for you to visit next year.

Not Everybody in Calloway county subscribes to the Ledger & Times—but nearly everybody reads it!

DOES BLADDER IRRITATION. Wake you up? It's not normal. It's nature warning "Danger Ahead." Your 25c back if this 4-day test does not help nature flush excess acid and other wastes from the kidneys. AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF CALLOWAY COUNTY

Now that the Court of Appeals has given its endorsement to the Local Option Election of June 25, 1938, thus outlawing any form of "drink" that contains more than 1 per cent of alcoholic content, let us, as citizens of a great country, observe the law with real consistency.

Of course we will still have the "boot-leggers"—among us, just as we have had the murderers with us since the days of Cain and Abel, but no real patriotic citizen can claim to love his country and his commonwealth and at the same time engage in a practice that sets aside the law of the land. Not only should we refrain from the disgraceful practice of "selling unlawfully" wine, liquor and beer, but no good citizen will encourage the bootlegger by buying what is forbidden by law.

Also, we should lend our hearty cooperation and support to the officers of the law in their effort to enforce the law. These officers need the sympathy and prayers of all good people in their efforts to make our county a "better county" in which to live.

We claim to be a democratic country, by which we say that the will of the majority shall prevail. We believe in "government of the people, for the people, by the people." The citizens of this good county, by a vote of 1886 to 307, expressed themselves as being opposed to the sale of alcoholic drinks in the county. Why not be a "good sport," fall in line with the wish of this large majority and observe sincerely the law of the county? We trust all will cooperate in the observance and enforcement of this law.

CONCERNING INSANITY

Insanity, crazy, dementia praecox, nervousness, split mind and perhaps criminal minded belong to that peculiar character of person who can think straight on some subjects but on others their mind goes wrong. Perhaps we are all crazy to some extent, some worse than others.

In my judgment, and my experience bears me out in my conclusions, insanity is the result of a toxic poison on the brain or a poison that certain tissue cells of the brain.

There is a brain center that furnishes impulse for every act, thought, or sense in our life. Poison this center and you have a split mind. The amount of poison will determine the degree of insanity.

The brain center can be poisoned by the use of drugs or alcohol, and in that condition the patient may commit some very serious act that society will not condone, that form of insanity does not have my sympathy. The kind of insanity that has my sympathy is auto-intoxication or self poisoning—poisons in our own bodies that settle in the brain and cause insanity for which the patient was not responsible, and over which he has no control.

In this state of mind the patient may be very religious, may want to hurt you or even kill you. Some times humble, continually doing some act of kindness, some times ferocious like a

BETTER to the Editor

Norfolk, Virginia April 26, 1938

Dear Editor:

I shall be home in a few days and hope to see you people around Murray again. At present I am aboard the U.S.S. Arkansas and enjoying my naval career very much. We are in dry dock right now for a couple of weeks and there is quite a great deal of work to be done in scraping and cleaning of the ship's sides; then we make all preparations to make three ROTC cruises and a Naval Reserve Cruise to various ports on the East Coast and the West Indies.

The Navy Spirit, or Spirit of the Navy, which becomes imbedded in our anatomy is an unexplainable something that we cannot avoid if we remain with the service for any length of time.

In a sense it is unexplainable. It is here; we all get it sooner or later, without any particular effort on our part or on the part of our shipmates. In my opinion, Navy Spirit is composed of teamwork and good sportsmanship.

At some time during our naval career we are given duties which are not to our liking, yet those duties are performed cheerfully and willingly. We arrive aboard a new ship, make friends, new shipmates, new experiences, yet when the time comes to sever those friendships we pack our bags and hammocks, bid a cheerful farewell to those whom we have learned to know and love, and we're off for a new assignment. Upon our arrival at the new station or ship, we meet new faces, possibly all strangers, but are made to feel at home, due directly to the Navy spirit.

It was the Spirit of the Navy that caused to be handed down to us some of the most famous sayings of history, too numerous to mention here. It is also that same Navy Spirit that causes men to stay in the service. We laugh and joke of the hardships to be encountered, and some of us perhaps day dream of the big jobs awaiting us on the big outside. Many do leave the service and enter civil life, are successful, but there isn't one in all the countless group that hasn't at one time or another wished that he was back aboard a man-of-war. You often hear the retired member, who has given 35 years of his time to the service, say he would like to be back again—Why? Because when bucking the great outside you don't find the same spirit that you do on the inside. Schoolmates are not shipmates, neither are business associates. Fair play, good sportsmanship and teamwork do not prevail in the degree they do in the Navy. On the whole, the outside remains a survival of the fittest; in the Navy, you must be fit before entering; if not, you don't last long enough to know what Navy Spirit is, and the cry changes from a survival of the fittest to a survival of the Navy. It is this same Navy spirit that has made the United States Navy the pride of America and the envy of the rest of the world. Sincerely yours, Clayton Hall, Y3c-USN

In Memory

In sad but loving memory of my dear brother, Calvin Wesley Hinely.

Just one year ago today, In a tragic death my dear brother "went away."

That he is dead I will not say, But that he is just gone away. We miss your kind, loving voice and your sweet smiling face. But the memory of you dear brother Will never be erased—

Loving and kind in all his ways, Upright and just to the end of his days, Sincere and true in his heart and mind, Beautiful memories he left behind. Now his body lies sleeping in the cold and narrow grave; With the breezes softly blowing and the flowers gently wave. To the living ones where ere they be, As you are now so once was he. As he is now you soon will be—So be prepared for Eternity.

By JULIAN III

Once there was a man who had seven sons. He took them to the top of a high mountain and showed them in all directions. He said: "Go to the ends of the earth. Learn wisdom. Be great. Return to me after seven years and receive the reward you have merited."

And at the end of seven years the first son returned to his father and said, "I have gathered together the treasures of the world. Much wealth have I wrested from those who were weak. Much physical pleasure I have found. Reward me, therefore, according to what I have done."

And the father answered him: "Await your brothers." Then he gave him one of his maid-servants for a mistress, and feasted with him many days, bestowing upon him the finest of Eastern pearls.

And on the thirtieth day, the second and the third sons came, haughty and proud. In a far country, they had fought, behind the banner of a great king, and had won honor and glory. The one because of his prowess on the field, had become captain of the king's guards, the other, because of his seamanship, had become admiral of the king's navy.

But the father spoke to them as he had the first, and said: "Await your brothers," and each he gave a silver sword upon whose hilt was engraved in gold the figure of an eagle. And the eagle flew with wings, for its wings had been shorn, but it wore a crown on its head with a number and a name. And the number was 1266, but the name constantly changed and continually was a paradox.

The fourth brother arrived in the night. Footsore and weary, he had traveled through the melancholy years. In all the world he had found only suffering and sorrow. There was only greed, and selfishness, and vanity, and despair. And he cried out in agony, "Oh, Father, let me stay at home with you forever. There is only evil in the world; there is only decay and disillusionment. Here alone can I find happiness."

But his brothers rose up against him, and said one to another, "Is this a brother of ours? Nay! Cast him out." And they would have lain hands upon him, but the father arose and stretched out his hand. "Am I the sire of jackals that I cannot have peace in my own home?" And he turned unto his fourth son and said unto him: "You alone of these, my four sons, have acquired knowledge. For in much knowledge, there is much sorrow. But you have not found wisdom. If one would find happiness, let him first seek it in himself. Remain in peace." And he gave him a small sealed book in which was written the names of those who were wise and the ten rules of living.

By-and-by the fifth and the sixth brothers appeared, one of them in chains and in prison garb, the other with a long thin whip in his hand with which he castigated his prisoner with each word that he spoke. And he did not spare his brother. But the father arose from his feasting and questioned him, saying, "What is the meaning of this?" But the youth in the chains stood there and smiled and would not speak. Then the man with the lash answered, "He has committed many crimes," he said. "He does not honor the Cross of God. He has slain many men. He has broken all the commandments."

And again the brothers counseled among themselves, saying, "We cannot have a murderer for a brother." But the father answered them calmly, "Are you more just than Justice? Have you forgotten the writing on the sand?" And he spoke to them eloquently: "Who that knows all that goes into the making of a sin shall dare to condemn a sinner?"

And with the words, the chains fell away from the captive, and he stood free and strong with lightning in his eyes.

"If there be a man among all my brothers who has not broken one of the commandments, let him step forward," he cried. And behold, the seventh son stood in the doorway!

Then happy in the joy of reunion, the father said: "Tell us, my son, of your travels, so that we may know who has best spent his sabbath."

Now there was among the brothers a certain one who had hated his seventh brother since he was a child. So he said to his other brothers: "Let us listen to his many words and applaud him vigorously, for surely eloquence is the father of vanity."

But the boy sat looking off into space, as if he saw into vast distance and endless time. He was youth, ageless and immortal, knowing all that man has ever known or will ever know. He spoke softly, like the whispering of winds, like the music from the memory of Eden.

"I went into far countries, into all the kingdoms of the earth. I found laughter and happiness, and virtue and truth and beauty. And I found love. I crossed the seas into strange lands, and I penetrated the walls of heaven. I said to myself: 'One cannot be great unless he has listened to the music of eternity.' So in the evening, in the black and dark night, I lay alone under desert stars. The mountains of my soul were purple with shadow. One night in a dream my father said to me: 'I shall leave all my silver to your brothers—so they will not hate you. So I did not accumulate wealth. In all the world, I found no thing to do difficult to accomplish. I saw Aphrodite and June on the mountain tops, and I saw Cleopatra and Helen. I am morning and night, and I am moonlight. I am the essence of energy itself. I am Youth, I am Understanding, I am Beauty, I am Truth."

"Go your ways, my brothers, into Babel. But when the smashing echoes of a million centuries deaden your brief illusion, I shall receive you unto myself!"

Mr. and Mrs. "Tom" Morgan and "Ole Eagle" attended church Friday night at Murray Church of Christ and heard Fred Chunn on "Does the Scripture teach instrumental music in the church worship since the day of Pentecost?" Fred's

I went in a two-horse wagon from Coldwater with Mr. Stevan Wallace and family. My grandmother was Lucy Wade. I aim to 'writeup' Coldwater, where I was reared, as soon as I can make a last minute diagnosis. So "Bud", leave it to me. Editor's Note: We'll be looking for that story, Eagle!"

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, May 5—BUSINESS

Although the recession has cut sales volume and manufacturing output in many businesses, there are still a few bright spots in the general industrial picture. In Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana the oil industry is reported operating full time preparing for the Spring and Summer motor season. Aircraft manufacturers in Los Angeles are swamped with orders, chiefly from foreign governments engaged in heavy rearmament programs. Factories in Illinois are turning out more agricultural machinery than at this time last year. In Dayton, Ohio, the cash register business seems to be better than ever. While along the nation's seaboard in New York, New Orleans and the Pacific Coast cities, exporters are handling more outgoing merchandise than last year. Our exports for the first quarter of 1938 totaled $816,833,000, a gain of $115,687,000.

WASHINGTON—The action of the House rules committee in shelving the Norton Wages and Hours bill makes it doubtful that the measure will be enacted at this session of Congress. It is now necessary to have a petition signed by 218 members of the House calling for a discharge of the rules committee in order to bring the bill to a discussion on the floor of the House. Henry Ford's visit to the White House and the announcement by Governor Philip P. LaFollette of Wisconsin of the formation of a 3rd party provided plenty of dinner table conversation in the nation's capital last week.

UNEMPLOYMENT—The special committee on unemployment and relief of the United States Senate estimates the number of unemployed persons in the country at the present time at 12,870,000. This figure approximates the number of unemployed during the dark days of 1932. The committee believes that approximately 2,000,000 people have lost their jobs since last November. It is also estimated that approximately 14 per cent of the people in America are now beneficiaries of public aid either from the Federal, state or local governments.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—A new transparent can made of plastic material with a tin top and bottom has been placed on the market. It is reported Germany has ordered 133,000,000 of these cans to conserve the tin supply of that country. The persons who have one automobile accident usually have a second and often a third. A survey shows that while "accident repeaters" constitute less than 4 per cent of the population this group is responsible for 40 per cent of the country's auto accidents. You can read a newspaper from the light of the 2 billion candlepower beacon atop the Palmolive Building, Chicago, at a distance of 27 miles away. Federal Housing Administration Stewart McDonald says the FHA program will lead to $1,000,000,000 of private construction before the year ends. The Bureau of Mines has advocated the purchase of a stockpile of minerals for national defense purposes. A new process has been invented by the coal mining industry which increases efficiency 10 per cent.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—a combination parachute and life raft designed for aviators who are forced to "bale-out" over-water.

A fuse which is thrown out of the box by a spring immediately after it has "blown."

A floating perforated rubber bathtub which makes it possible to take a tub bath in an ocean, river or lake.

A bridge table, with electric signal systems, so that riders push a button and a light flashes his bid on the table top.

A machine for removing railroad ties which enables one man to do the job in six minutes.

Lower prices on men's Fall suits with reductions ranging from $2 to $4.

Increased demand for low-price kitchenware.

Bigger demand for women's shoes to retail at $8.75.

Increase in employment in the aviation industry.

The largest pineapple crop on record, although size of the fruit this year will be smaller than usual.

American farm equipment larger in March. Secretary of Commerce Roper urges adoption of annual wage for industry. Decision of day stores to restrict purchases of Japanese toys will mean $5,000,000 more business for American toy manufacturers, declares Herman G. Fisher, president of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A.

FOOD PRICES—The Department of Agriculture estimates that it costs about $1 per week less to feed the average American family of five today than it did 10 months ago. Food prices generally have declined about 10 per cent since last September and there is every reason to believe that they will remain low for the balance of 1938.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday, May 8, 1938

This is Mother's Day, not only in America but round the world. The beginning of this custom dates from the year 1908, when Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, first observed Mother's Day in honor of her own mother. She felt that others shared her sentiments so she began a nation wide appeal for such an observance and it met with such universal acceptance that Congress set apart the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. Now it is an international custom. The Methodist Church, in common with many of the progressive denominations, shares in this Mother's Day observance, and the message of the morning hour by the pastor will be in honor of our mothers, living and dead. Be sure to wear a rose in her honor that day. At the evening hour the pastor will preach from the text: "Death and life are in the power of the tongue," Prov. 18:21. We use these tongues of ours so unwisely at times, not realizing the tremendous power unloosed.

The Church-school orchestra begins its program at 9:30 and you will enjoy the music of this bunch of youngsters. You will find a suitable class and a good teacher for your own individual needs. This class and teacher will be glad to welcome you.

The children and young people meet in three age groups and your children will find here a good opportunity for Christian nature.

Who are permanent citizens of Murray should encourage the new comers to our city to attend our splendid churches.

J. Mack Jenkins, pastor P. S. Every worshiper is expected to wear a flower in honor of mother. A red rose if mother still lives to bless your life. A white rose if mother has joined the angels. A committee will furnish you a flower if you do not have one.

My Mother

She is my mother—God bless her,
I love her
And I know there is none other
Who can take the place of mother.
She is good and true and kind and no where I'll ever find anyone so fine
As that grey-haired mother of mine.

May this Mother's Day bring you comfort and cheer
That will last throughout the coming year
For all your life you have had sorrow and strife and burdens that were heavy to bear.
And I know at times no one seems to care—
Still our troubles you would share.

How oft do I remember when you were the member to be scant of needed things.
Yet you never did complain;
It was for our comfort and joy
you worked.

And never did you from your duty shrink
Should you and I live ninety years and nine
I could not tell you Mother Mine
How I love and appreciate you now.

Though I used to seem not to know how.

I love each wrinkle on your dear face
And your voice is like music in any place.
And I know in Heaven you will stand

With the angels' holy band.
When God and His Son has bid you come to wear a crown of Life
And be through with your sorrow and strife.

Greeting to My Mother on this day,
God bless her, I love her,
May you be glad this Mother's
Day

And your heart be filled with cheer
In the thought that those who love you

Love you better every year.
That's My Mother

THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF GASOLINES BUT ONLY ONE D-X

D-X Lubricates

UPPER-CYLINDER PARTS

for Better Performance—More Mileage

D-X Motor Fuel contains an exclusive high heat-resisting lubricant, which is drawn into the combustion chamber of the engine with the gasoline vapor, providing instant and needed lubrication. These upper-cylinder parts require lubrication to resist friction as do other moving parts, but crankcase oil does not adequately protect them during the starting and "warm up" period. Thus, D-X reduces motor wear and tear... your engine runs faster, cooler... and mileage is substantially increased. Try D-X or D-X Ethyl on a money-back guarantee.
